

Briefing for Industry

Focusing on the front end of the business with strategic partnerships

focus on partnering

with the Jet Propulsion Laboratory

Having the right partner at the right time is critical to successful robotic space and earth exploration. Through strategic collaborations, JPL and Industry leaders can produce world class science by discovering and developing technology together.

This one-day conference brings key JPL decision makers into direct contact with Industry personnel. Utilizing panel discussions and face-to-face interaction, attendees can learn about future technology directions, requirements, and business opportunities and share ideas on how to enable productive partnerships.

It's a day to get your questions answered.

TUESDAY, 13 MAY 2008

8:00 AM - 5:00 PM

GLENDALE HILTON

For program details and to register visit:
www.nscwest.org

